

WINE GUILD VICTORIA INCORPORATED

FUNCTION NOTICE

WINEMAKER'S DINNER

'The French influence on Australian Wines' Featuring Dominique Portet and Dominique Portet wines

Dominique Portet, a 9th generation winemaker, was introduced to wine at Château Lafite-Rothschild, in Médoc, which is situated in northern Bordeaux, where his father worked as vineyard and winery manager. He trained at Montpellier University of Oenology before taking on a role as wine-buying adviser during compulsory military service. Dominique later worked vintages in the Médoc, Rhône Valley, Provence and with Champagne giant Moët et Chandon, as well as in the Napa Valley at his brother Bernard's Clos du Val estate.

Since 1976 Dominique has been a pioneer of the renaissance of Australia's cool-climate wine industry, founding renowned sparkling wine house Taltarni in the Pyrenees and Clover Hill in Tasmania.

In 2000 Dominique embarked on his greatest adventure: the Dominique Portet winery at Coldstream in the Yarra Valley.

"I found fragrance and structure – most of all the structure reminds me of Bordeaux. The Yarra Valley has a charm, a beauty that engulfs you. The wines are worldly."
